Ellis Island, Incinerator
(U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator)
(Statue of Liberty National Monument)
New York Harbor
New York
New York County

New York

HABS No. NY-6086-B

HARO.
141.

PHOTOGRAPHS

WRITTEN HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE DATA

Historic American Buildings Survey
Mid-Atlantic Region National Park Service
Department of the Interior
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19106

HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

HARS NY 31-ELLIS (Page 1)

ARCHITECTURAL DATA FORM

stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was	STATE	COUNTY		TOWN OR VICINITY
ELIJS ISJAND, INCINERATOR SECONDARY OR COMMON NAMESOF STRUCTURE U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator Statue of Liberty National Monument COMPLETE ADDRESS [JESCRIBE LOCATION FOR RURAL SITES] New York Harbor DATE OF CONSTRUCTION [INCLUDE SOURCE] 1911 (Historic Structure Report by Harian D. Unraw, 1981, pp. 582-83) SIGNIFICANCE [ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE] Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stuce; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DE STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SPRANTEF PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner in the sum passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the southeant ormer (contil) INTERIOR FEATURES FORTE (JOSEPLANS, FORTE (JOSEPLANS). FOR TSECTHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerator. An iron ladder at the southeant ormer is a sum of the second of the continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron fr	NEW YORK	NEW YO	RK	NEW YORK
SECONDARY OR COMMON NAMES OF STRUCTURE U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator Statue of Liberty National Monument COMPLETE ADDRESS (DESCRIBE LOCATION FOR RURAL SITES) New York Harbor DATE OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE SOURCE) 1911 (Historic Structure Report by Harian D. Unrau, 1981, pp. 582-83) GIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) EXTYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) EXTERIOR FEATURES OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and spair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner on the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides saccess to the cast Iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MALIGRALITERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural Iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U. S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively pa	HISTORIC NAME OF STRUCTURE (INCLUDE SOURCE FOR NAME) HABS NO.
U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator Statue of Liberty National Monument COMPLETE ADDRESS (DESCRIBE LOCATION FOR RURAL SITES) New York Harbor OATE OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE SOURCE) 1911 (Historic Structure Report by HarIan D. Unrau, 1981, pp. 582-83) SIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Eilis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete orof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; attructural iron framing on west side. HAPP AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with fron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE IDESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the southeend provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demoliti	ELLIS ISLAND, INCINERATOR				NY-6086-B
New York Harbor DATE OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE SOURCE) 1911 (Historic Structure Report by Harlan D. Unrau, 1981, pp. 582-83) SIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rosts on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE RE	U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator
DATE OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE SOURCE) 1911 (Historic Structure Report by Harlan D. Unrau, 1981, pp. 582-83) SIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SFERATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rosts on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) T	COMPLETE ADDRESS (DESCRIBE LOCATION FOR RURAL SITES)
JOHN (Historic Structure Report by Harlan D. Unrau, 1981, pp. 582-83) SIGNIFICANCE (ARCHITECTURAL AND HISTORICAL, INCLUDE ORIGINAL USE OF STRUCTURE) Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel amokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural inpon framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records.	New York Harbor
Constructed in 1911 by the Morse-Bougler Destructor Company, the incinerator was used to burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; atructural iron framing on west side. IMAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SPRATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rosts on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography.	1911 (Historic Structure Report by Harlan Unknown			UDE SOURCE)
burn all the garbage on Ellis Island. It was the second incinerator on the island. STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; atructural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography.
MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography.
MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION (INCLUDIE STRUCTURAL SYSTEMS) Exterior brick bearing walls sheathed in stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and wost walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography.
stucco; concrete slab floor at grade; reinforced wood-formed concrete roof slab on steel beams; steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION	STYLE (IF APPROPRIATE) beams: steel smokestack; low concrete enclosure wall; structural iron framing on west side. HAPE AND DIMENSIONS DF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE) Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a cornugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE
Rectangular, 28'-1/2" x 21' (building); 54' x 29'-1/2" (slab). EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJOR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION
EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	CHAPE AND DIMENSIONS OF STRUCTURE (SKETCHED FLOOR PLANS ON SEPARATE PAGES ARE ACCEPTABLE)
concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION
concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a pair of metal doors on the south elevation. A steel smokestack is located at the northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION	EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE The one-story stucco-covered incinerator rests on an extended northeast corner. Low concrete enclosure walls are located at the southeast corner (contd) INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (DESCRIBE FLOOR PLANS, IF NOT SKETCHED) The interior consists of a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	concrete slab base. It has a cornice, six light wood sash windows with iron grilles and a narrow passage between the two incinerators along the east and west walls and a small loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE loading space along the south end of the incinerators. An iron ladder at the south end provides access to the cast iron charging platform and the tops of the (continued) MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE
MAJDR ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS WITH DATES 1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE
1934: Installation of a self-supporting steel smokestack at the northeast corner. 1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION
1937: A metal extension of structural iron framing covered by a corrugated copper roof was added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler PRESENT CONDITION AND USE Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	1
Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition. OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	added to the western side of the building as a housing for a power-driven scrap metal baler
OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE See Field Records. SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	PRESENT CONDITION AND USE
Sources of Information (Including Listing on National Register, State Registers, Etc.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	Vacant, deteriorated and planned for demolition.
SOURCES OF INFORMATION (INCLUDING LISTING ON NATIONAL REGISTER, STATE REGISTERS, ETC.) The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	OTHER INFORMATION AS APPROPRIATE
The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE	See Field Records.
The former U.S. Immigration Station on Ellis Island is administratively part of the Statue of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE of Liberty National Monument, National Park Service. The incinerator was studied as part of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE of the overall restoration/rehabilitation activities at Ellis Island. See bibliography. COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE
COMPILER, AFFILIATION DATE
Beyer Blinder Belle, Architects & Planners 7 February 1985	COMPILER, AFFILIATION			,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,	DATE
1	Beyer Blinder Belle, Architec	ts & Planners			7 February 1985

ELLIS ISLAND, INCINERATOR (U.S. Immigration Station, Incinerator) HABS No. NY6086-B (Page 2)

EXTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (continued)

and on the north side. Structural iron framing extends out from the west side of the building. A baler sits under this framing (originally a roofed enclosure) at the southwest corner. A free-standing brick furnace is located west of the incinerator. See following data pages and Field Records.

INTERIOR FEATURES OF NOTE (continued)

incinerators. One circular hole in the ceiling over each incinerator marks the location of flues. See following data pages and Field Records.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

- Beyer Blinder Belle. "Historic Structures Report; Unit One; Ellis Island Statue of Liberty National Monument." Preliminary Draft. Prepared for the National Park Service, 1985.
- Building Conservation Technology/The Ehrenkrantz Group. "Historic Structures Report; Ellis Island Statue of Liberty National Monument New York."

 Prepared for the National Park Service, 1978.
- U.S. Department of the Interior, National Park Service, Denver Service Center. "Historic Structure Report; Ellis Island; Historical Data." Authored by Harlan D. Unrau, May 1981.
- . "Survey of Structures; Unit One; Incinerator." Measured drawings (see data pages and Field Records).

ELLIS ISLAND, INCINERATOR (U.S. IMMIGRATION STATION, INCINERATOR)

(Page 3) HABS No. NY-6086-B

ELLIS ISLAND, INCINERATOR (U.S. IMMIGRATIC ATION, INCINERATOR) HABS No. NY-6080-E (Page 4)

ELLIS ISLAND, INCINERATOR (U.S. IMMIGRATION STATION, INCINERATOR) HABS No. NY-6086-B (Page 6)

SEAWALL, BAKERY AND CARPENTER SHOP, POWERHOUSE, AND INCINERATOR, 1934

Photograph taken on September 24, 1934, showing construction in progress on the new granite-faced seawall (section 3) for the fill behind island 1 as well as the bakery and carpenter shop, powerhouse, and incinerator buildings

National Archives, Audiovisual Archives Division, Still Picture Branch